Church to start commemorating 350th anniversary

Wednesday, December 31, 2008

KINGSTON — The Old Dutch Church at Wall and Main streets, whose congregation was founded in 1659, will begin celebrating its 350th anniversary year on Sunday with a Communion service celebrated in the style of the 17th century.

The service will begin at 10:30 a.m. A reception will follow.

The Rev. Kenneth L. Walsh said in a prepared statement that Sunday's service will be one of many commemorative events held in 2009, culminating with a festival the weekend of May 30-31.

The church's current building, its third home, was constructed in the 1850s.
